

We're here to support you as we collectively navigate through COVID-19.

The COVID-19 pandemic has and continues to influence all aspects of our daily lives and presents us all with unique challenges. It is impacting your customers, employees, and families. As the situation surrounding COVID-19 evolves day-to-day, we want to reiterate our commitment to supporting all of our clients during these difficult times. With guidance from public health officials and the CDC, we will all make it through this.

As a company proudly serving financial institutions across New England, know that we are here for you as our clients, industry colleagues, and friends.

After first assessing how best to protect your employees, understanding what actions to take to serve your retail and business customers who rely on capital and loans will be critical. We are dedicated to investing our capabilities and expertise to help you make smart, informed decisions. Our data, analytics, and banking experience will allow you to remain proactive and position yourself to act, not just react, to the direct impact on your business and those you serve.

If there's anything we can do to support you as a resource in any way, please let us know. We wish you, your colleagues, and your family's safety, wellness, and positivity during these unprecedented times.

Sincerely,

Mike Purchia
